

Are your staff ready for The Personal Property Securities Regime?

The Personal Property Securities Act is consistently described as one of the most significant commercial law reforms to occur in the last 50 years. The aim of the reform is to address property rights (with the exception of land) and the securitisation of these rights. The legislation will enable many unsecured transactions to be secured, together with clarification of priorities. The PPS Register will operate nationally and incorporate over 40 existing registers as well as incorporating previously unregistrable security interests.

Can't afford to have your staff out of the office for training?

The AICM can solve the problem of getting your staff up to date without taking them from the office by introducing the PPS Online program.
